

One of West Michigan's 101 Best and Brightest Companies

Cynthia Kay and Company media production won West Michigan's 101 Best and Brightest Companies to Work for, in 2006 and again in 2007...and that shouldn't be a surprise. Some companies talk about relationships and the value of the team and community... we live it.

From the very beginning the company has operated under the belief that our success is measured by the success of our customers. It may seem old fashioned or trite but we don't want to take center stage. We want our customers to use the high quality products and services that we deliver to further their business and reach their goals. When they do- we both succeed. We are proud that our very first clients remain among our best.
